

Approximately nine months ago, Aeroflex / Inmet had announced the plan to relocate the Aeroflex KDI-Resistor business unit from Whippany New Jersey to the campus in Ann Arbor Michigan. We would like to take this opportunity to provide an update to the integration process and what to expect in the coming months.

We have scheduled the first phase of the physical move to take place during the second half of April and the final phase to be completed in early June. To prepare for this timing, some changes to the daily operations will be implemented in the coming weeks.

As of April 1, 2011 all purchase orders should be directed to Aeroflex / Inmet as the KDI-Resistor operation in Whippany will only be supporting existing backlog. We will be operating under the Aeroflex / Inmet cage code of 64671 and we will not be changing any existing KDI-Resistor part numbers and will have the historical documentation to support future builds in Ann Arbor. There will be no need to change existing bill of materials or design documentation with respect to part numbers.
